United Way of Lewis County Activates Flood Relief Fund to Support Community Recovery

December 12, 2025 | Lewis County, WA — In response to the recent flooding that has impacted communities across Lewis County, United Way of Lewis County has mobilized to support recovery efforts by coordinating financial assistance for those affected.

United Way of Lewis County is working closely with Lewis County Emergency Management and Lewis County Government to ensure impacted residents receive timely and appropriate support as recovery efforts continue.

Effective December 12, 2025, United Way of Lewis County has activated a Flood Relief Fund to provide direct assistance to individuals and families impacted by flooding throughout the county. Funds will be distributed through an application process administered by Lewis County Emergency Management, ensuring aid reaches those with the greatest and most immediate need.

“United Way exists to bring people together in times of need,” said Annie Oien, Executive Director of United Way of Lewis County. “Our community has once again stepped up to care for one another, and this fund will help families stabilize, clean up, and begin the recovery process.”

Donations to the Flood Relief Fund can be made online by CLICKING HERE. One hundred percent of all donations will be used to provide emergency financial assistance and support clean-up and recovery efforts related to the current flood event. If you would like emergency funds to support relief efforts specifically in East Lewis County please indicate on your donation.

Individual and corporate donations may also be made in person or by mail at:
